HOLT, MISSOURI

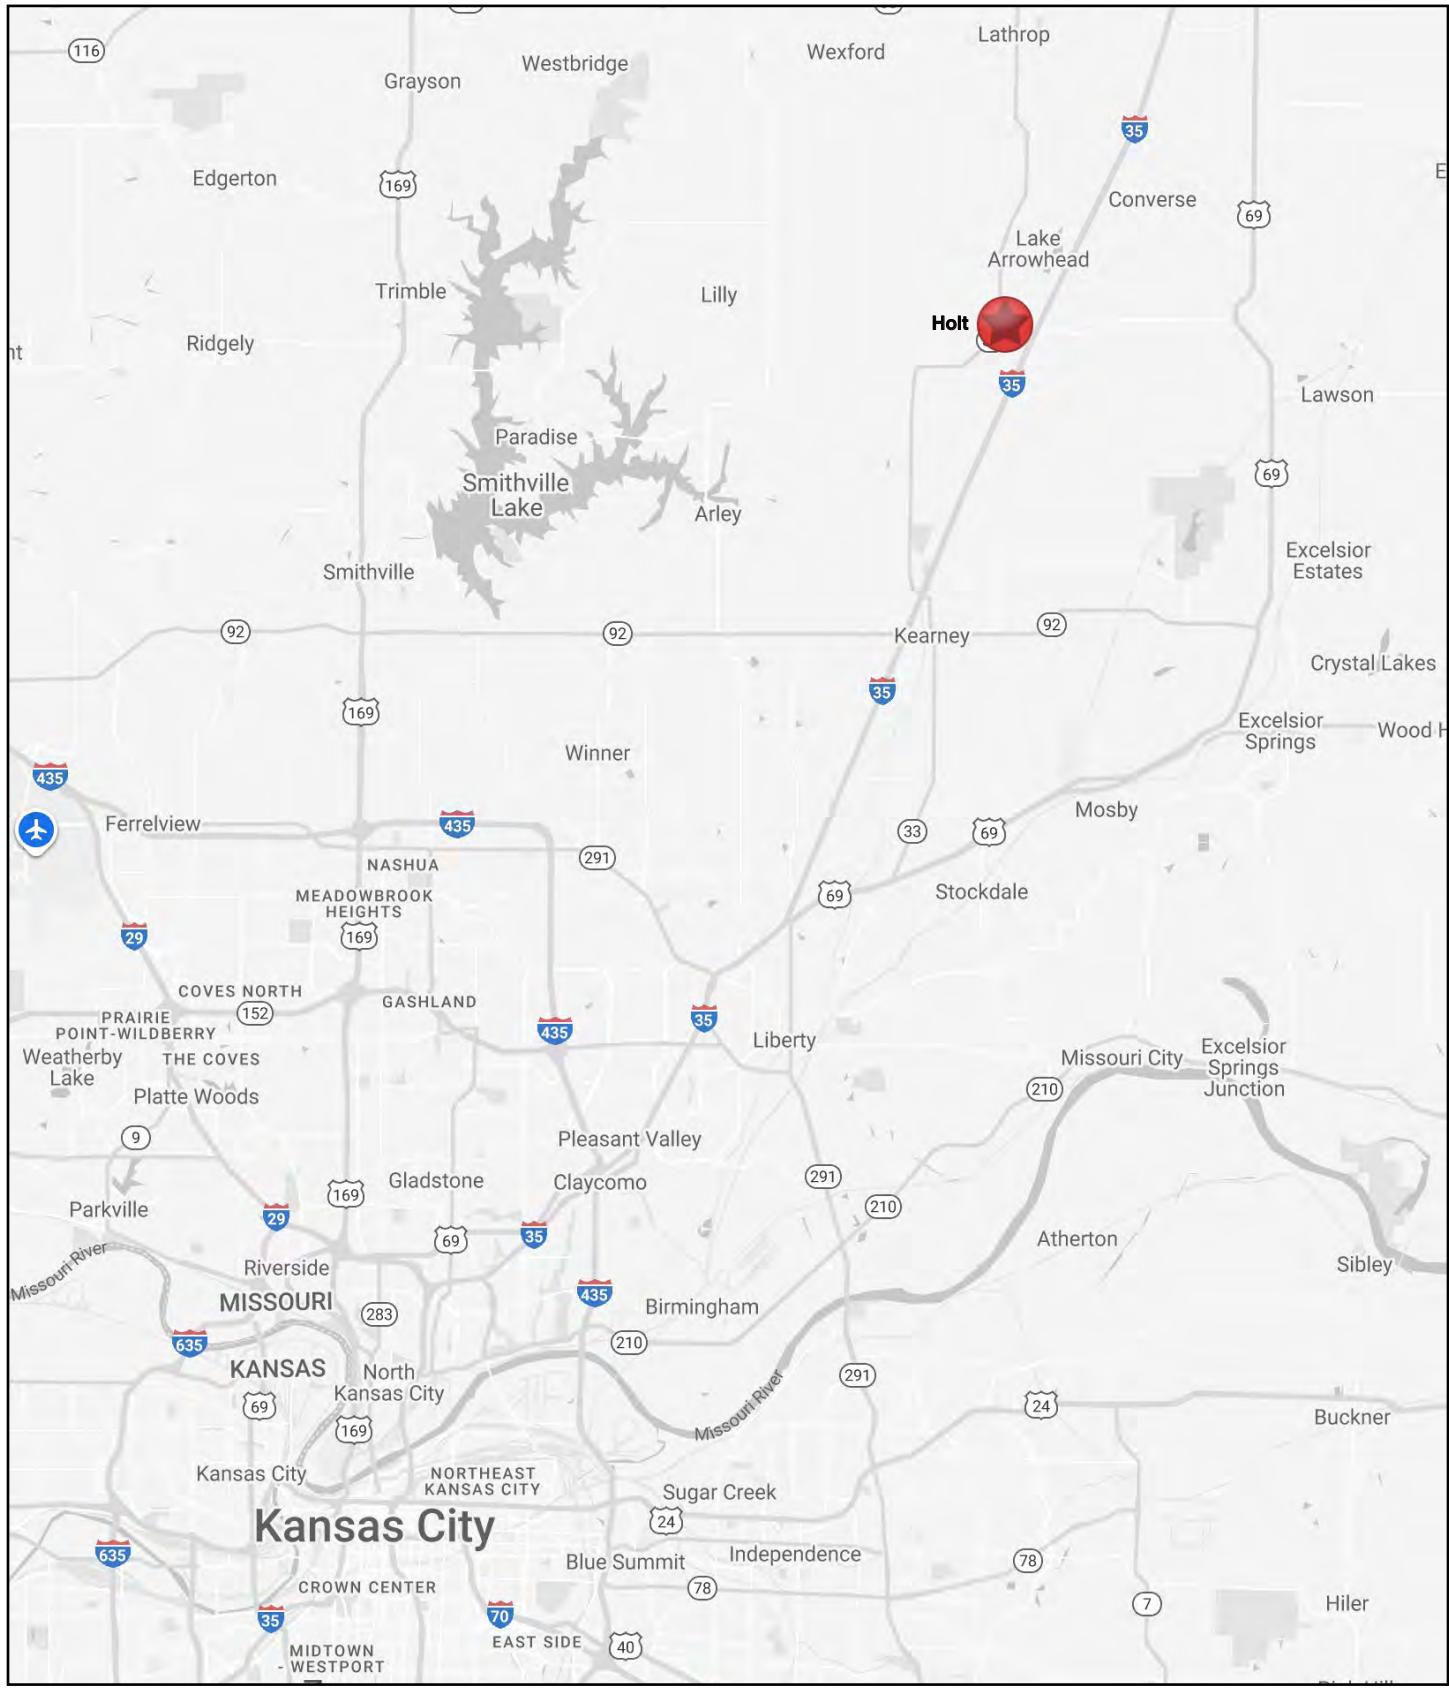

Holt, MO, was platted in 1867. The city was named for Jeremiah Abel Holt (1811-1886), who donated the land in 1837 and was one of the first settlers in the area, a native of Orange County, North Carolina. Holt is located in the Clinton-Clay county line west of I-35. Missouri Route 33 passes through the community. The Lake Arrowhead reservoir on the Muddy Fork of Clear Creek lies north of the community.

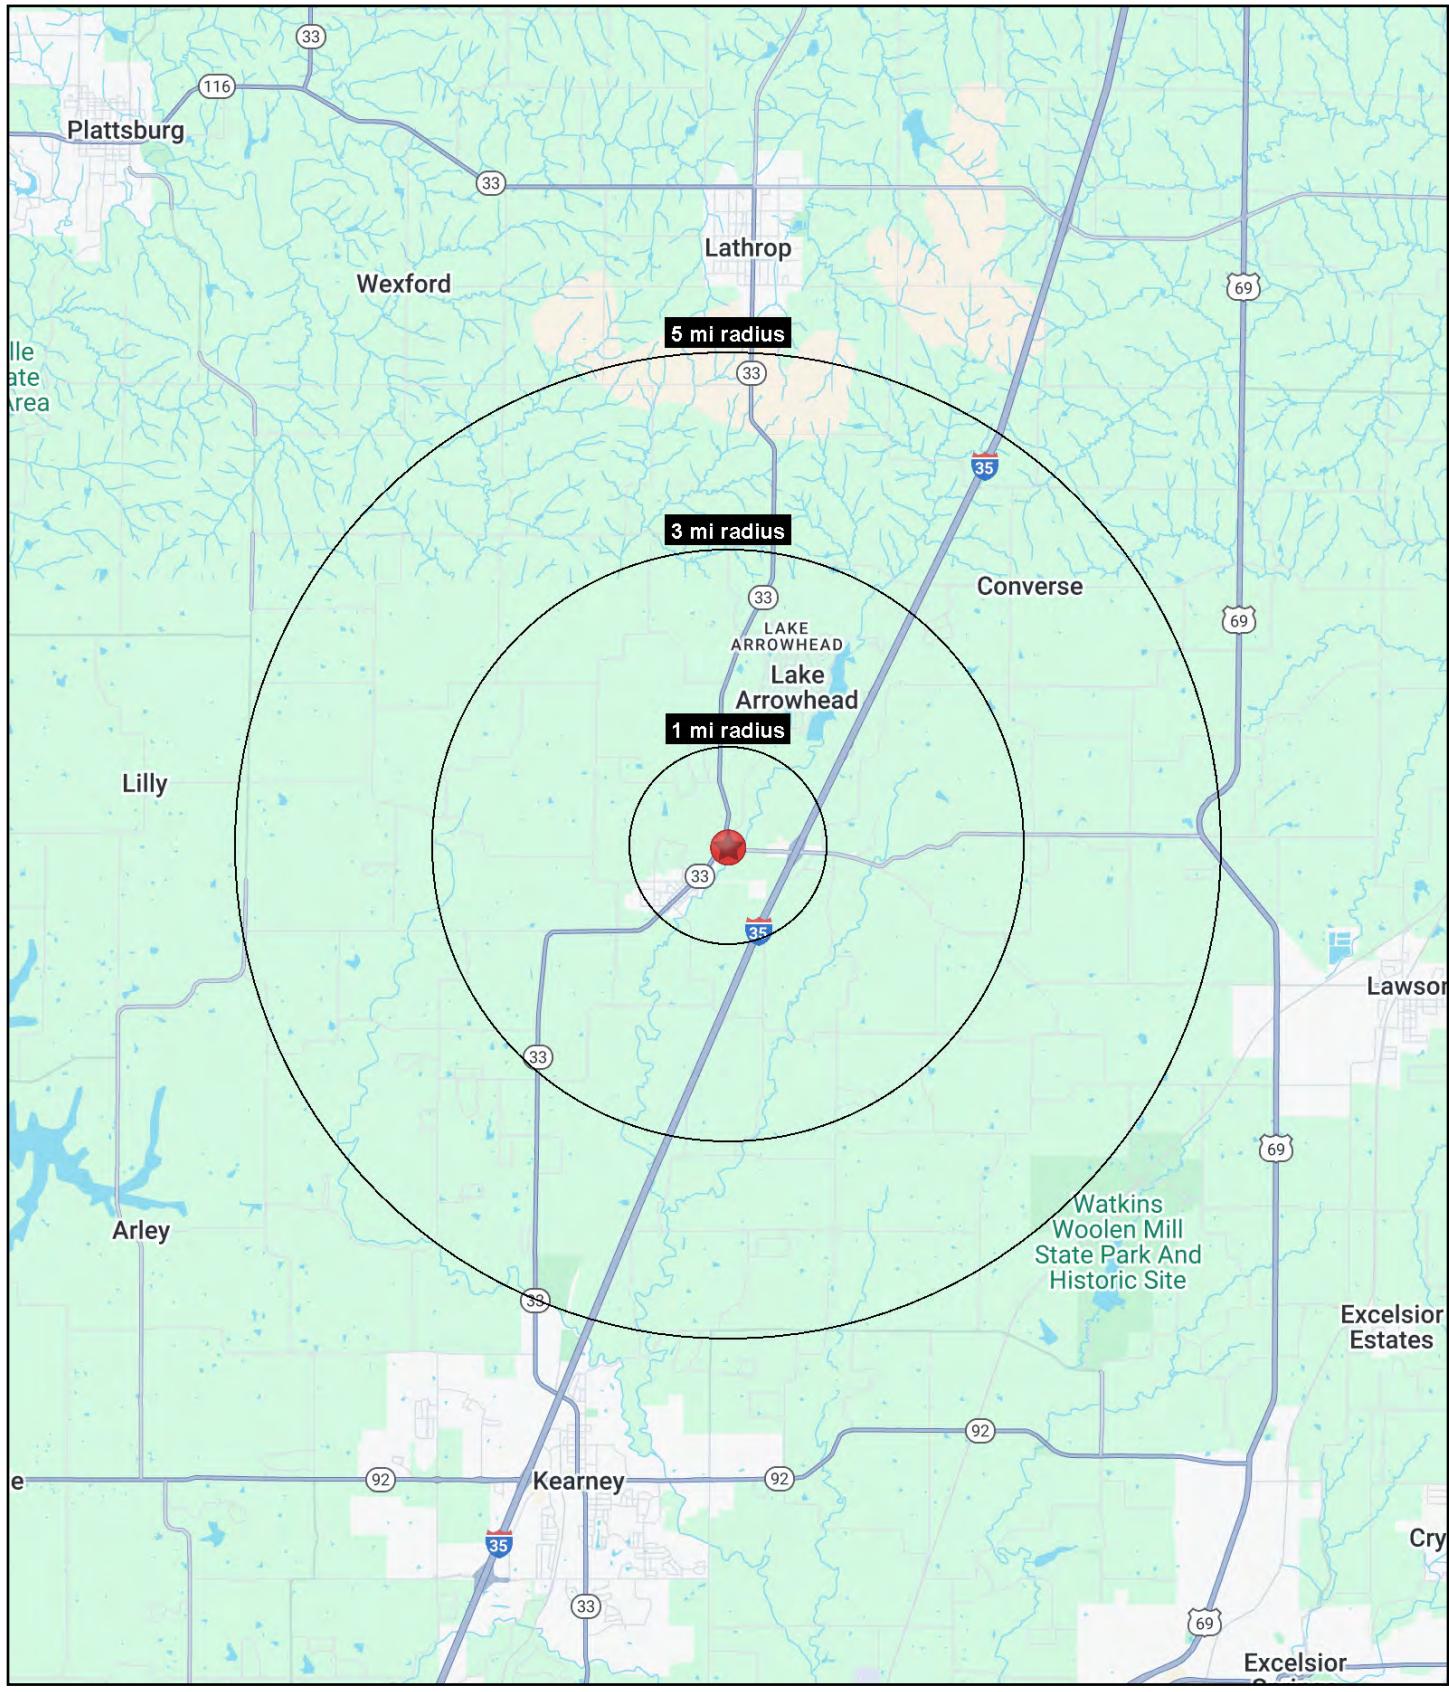

Holt, Missouri, is a small, growing, strong community known for its quiet, rural charm with easy, convenient highway access (I-35), offering country living near larger towns, featuring new subdivisions, highly-rated schools (like Northern Hills Christian Academy), and nearby attractions like Watkins Mill State Park and the Jesse James Birthplace Museum.

Holt features essential community amenities, including a full-time fire protection district and access to the Kearney School District.

Positioned in the northern suburbs of the Kansas City metropolitan area, Holt lies approximately 30 miles north of downtown Kansas City.
